Enrichment weeks

Half term marks the end of Black History Month and we would like to share with our children and families that our first enrichment week of the year will be taking place during the week beginning Monday 23rd November and our focus will be linked to Black History entitled 'I have a dream...'. Our particular focus will be on individuals from history or the present day who have led change and inspired others. Our Spring term and Summer term enrichment weeks will also be around the theme of change and will include further learning about inspirational people who have made a difference.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Half term homework project

In preparation for our enrichment week linked to Black History, we have created a list individuals from history or the present who will feature as part of our enrichment week:

Rosa Parkes, Barack Obama, Martin Luther King, Katherine Johnson, Nelson Mandela, Muhammad Ali, Usain Bolt, Stormzy, Mary Seacole and Jesse Owens.

We would like our children to select one person from this list to learn about with a particular focus on the difference that they made or are currently making. Children can present this as a poster, a fact sheet, a timeline, a presentation or any other innovative idea that they have. Children can also select a person not identified on our list as long as they identify someone who has inspired others and led change.

Projects can be brought in to school during the week beginning 16th November ahead of our Enrichment week taking place.
